To reach the gallery you must come through the park. The entrances to the park nearest the gallery are Chelsea Gate and Rosery Gate. It is about 10-15 minutes walk from the gate to the gallery.

Join us as we test out how we can use our voices to mimic various objects. How would you imitate the squeak of a tap, a waterfall or squelching mud using only sounds made with your voice and body? Could you write it down or draw it? In this playful workshop join Rebecca Glover to experiment with vocal mimicry of the landscape. Soundtracks recorded at the workshop will be uploaded and available to listen to online.
